

HAPPENINGS IN AND ABOUT TOWN

ADAIR WILL BE HERE ON FRIDAY

Democratic Candidate For Governor Will Speak at the High School.

St. Joseph's county democrats will stage an old-fashioned political rally in connection with the meeting for John A. M. Adair, democratic nominee for governor, at the high school auditorium Friday night. Outside of Adair's talk at the high school, the big feature of the rally is the parade that will be staged before the meeting.

Delegations from Plymouth, Rochester, Argos, Goshen, Elkhart, LaPorte and other surrounding towns will come to the city in special cars and all of them will march in the parade. Red fire, torch lights, bands, drum corps and everything else that goes to make up an old-time rally will be included in the parade that night.

All of the details of the parade will be made at a meeting of the parade committee to be held at the democratic headquarters this evening. Members of this committee are: Rudolph Ackerman, chairman, Floyd Deahl, C. J. Allard, George Goetz, John Smoger, Frank Bilinski, John T. Niezgodski, Frank Witucki and J. N. Luther.

Plans have been made to have the delegations of each ward meet at certain places and march to the starting point of the parade, which probably will be near the corner of Lafayette and Division streets. The parade will march north on Lafayette street to LaSalle ave., east to Main st., south to Jefferson ave., west to Lafayette st., north to Washington ave., and west to the high school.

Following are the meeting places for the various ward delegations: First, fourth, fifth and seventh, democratic headquarters, S. Main st.; second, Linden hall; third, third ward headquarters, W. South st.; sixth, Witucki hall. From these places the delegations will march in bodies to the starting point of the parade.

Committees will be named to meet the democrats that will come to South Bend from the surrounding towns. A special train will come in over the New York Central lines, bringing the Plymouth, Rochester, Argos, Walkerton and North Liberty delegations. The train is scheduled to arrive here at 7:15 o'clock. Three special interurban cars have been chartered by the Elkhart democrats who will arrive here at 7:15 o'clock.

OFFENSE NOT INTENDED

Minister Up in City Court For Violating Ordinance.

Pleading guilty to a violation of the traffic ordinance, J. A. Lord, pastor of the River Park Methodist Episcopal church, told the city court that his infraction was not an intentional one. Upon the recommendation of the city attorney the imposed fine of $1 and costs was suspended.

Mr. Lord, driving in his automobile west on Washington ave., failed to make the proper turn onto Main st. He said that he had been following a car and that he turned left and cut the corner instead of driving around the traffic officer as the law requires. The court asked that he pay more strict attention to the traffic ordinances in the future.

The prosecution rested its case and the motion of the defense was sustained.

WOMAN IS ACCUSED

Charges of Cruelty Are Being Tried in City Court.

After a short recess during the noon hour, the case in city court resting against Alice Teeter of Oscoda for cruelty to children, was again taken up. Witnesses for the prosecution have already been heard and the defense is being presented to the court.

The case, which was transferred from the justice court of Mishawaka, was brought here on a change of venue. Motions by the defense to quash the transcript and the affidavit because it was not specific enough were overruled by the court. The contention of attorney for the defense, Metzger, that only evidence regarding the particular offense that is made the subject of the charge, should be heard, was also overruled by the court.

Corps of physicians from the city. Nothing could be done, however, since before the arrival of the medical men, for the child, the sole member of the party that lived, had already died.

Marks State Boundary.

The center of the road upon which the accident happened marks the boundary line between Indiana and Michigan, but since the car was north bound, the dead were thrown across the line into Michigan. South Bend police returned when the bodies were sent to Niles by the special car from the South Bend station.

Every one of the staves of the plot of the interurban was broken and the frame work almost torn from the car by the force of the blow. The headlight was broken, the body of the car slightly damaged, and a steam pipe broken, but no other damage was noted.

WOMAN FINED.

Anna Gargot, who according to the testimony of the Special Officer of the Lake Shore, was stealing coal from the right of way, was found guilty by the city court Wednesday morning and given a suspended sentence of 30 days in the county jail. The woman declared in defense that she was taking ice and not coal.

CHURCH GETS FORTUNE

Announcement of Gifts to Methodist Episcopal Church is Made.

International News Service: CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Gifts totaling $1,600,000 made to the Methodist Episcopal church were reported to the board of conference today by Dr. Joseph B. Hingeley, secretary.

He said that he had received a check for $450,000 in part payment of the bequest of Mrs. Ellen S. James of New York, who gave $850,000 to the board, the largest single gift the church ever received for benevolent purposes. Mrs. James also gave $150,000 for retired missionaries.

Announcement also was made that a Detroit automobile manufacturer, whose father was never paid more than $800 a year as a Methodist minister, had given $600,000 to the Michigan $17,000,000 fund. The name of the donor was withheld.

O'LEARY BUILT FOR THE FUTURE

Planned to Have Organization That Would Control Elections in U. S.

McDonald, dated Oct. 11, 1916, for illuminating details of the personal conference with Candidate Hughes, the demand made upon the candidate, Mr. Hughes' full compliance with such demands in the estimation of the propagandists, as well as details of the conference with Mr. Hughes' campaign managers. The letter states in part:

"It is possible for me to notify you that our delegation was accorded the same consideration as has been given to George Perkins and his followers and Mr. Hughes very gladly listened to our request that he state just how he stood upon American issues.

"Don't Like Wilson's Policies.

"Mr. Hughes was told that the bulk of the people did not consider Mr. Wilson's foreign policy to be the best thing for American interests. He was asked to outline his ideas of what he would do as president.

"In answering these questions Mr. Hughes declared that he was perfectly willing to tell all the world just how good an American he was and he was perfectly willing to state his position on any specific instance that might be brought up. He declared that he had no reason to conceal where he stood on the question of mail seizure, etc., and then to show the people just exactly how he felt he made his speech in Philadelphia and touched upon these questions.

Speech Satisfactory.

"This speech was perfectly satisfactory to all of our leaders in the east, north, west and south. His speech should have assured every one that in this election we will see the issue of a real American president and from this time on it is to be understood that organization leaders will instruct all of the public leaders and workers to do all that is possible to bring about the election of Mr. Hughes."

Concerning the secret negotiations between the representatives of the American independence conference and Mr. Hughes' campaign managers the MacDonald letter says:

"What followed was a report of the results accomplished by taking proper steps at once to assure the permanency of this organization."

The report of the committee on plans boldly sets forth the design of organization as follows:

"The committee feels that it should have its main office for a moment to point out what it has known to all of you that this is the time an organization should be formed that will be lasting so far as an organization national in character is needed to resist the Anglo-Saxon efforts to seek control of this country. This election should be looked upon as the first skirmish of a great battle that is to come."

"A powerful organization is necessary so the steps which we may win at this coming election will not be wasted and will be the first steps to our real end—the making of this country into a real and efficient America."

Concerning the organizations present and future political plans the report of the committee on plans says: "There are two immediate objects to receive the support both active and financial of the members of this organization."

"The first is the work in the presidential campaign."

"The second is the campaign that must be pushed, without delay, to bring about the election of real American congressmen."

From the same report is the following extract which obviously was not intended for public perusal. "The active campaign committee must and fortunately already is preoccupied with the work of the congressional districts of the country for the purpose of securing data on which candidates for congress should be supported by our national organization, including financial aid, speakers, etc., and which ones will be able to win elections if our branches established in every district give them the proper kind of support."

SWEDISH WOMAN TO TEACH US TO SKATE

Antagonistic to Wilson. It will be recalled that the statement read by the O'Leary special committee to Candidate Hughes at the secret conference held at the Hotel Astor in New York city during the middle of September was distinctly antagonistic to President Wilson's foreign policy in spirit and language. The confidential reports of the committee on plans and permanent organization abound in duplication of what is characterized as Anglo-Saxon propaganda in this country.

The fundamental and primary purpose of the American Independence conference as set forth in the opening paragraph of the report of its committee on permanent organization is as follows:

"Bringing into the new organization and uniting for continual work all real American citizens and organizations who are feeling now or may feel in the future the efforts of the Anglo-Saxon propaganda designed to wrest forever from them their rights of citizenship and their hope that the United States is to continue the greatest of the republics of the world."

The report of the committee on permanent organization concludes as follows: "The committee need not point out that the ultimate success will be with us for we are all confident that God and right are on our side, and this committee is certain that this gathering has faith in its executive committee, with its earnest and fighting leader, and that it will adopt these suggestions, recommendations and the complete report and will authorize and instruct the executive committee to begin this wonderful work without delay. The confidential reports of both the committee on plans and the committee on permanent organization also emphasize the great importance of organizing upon a permanent basis."

May Be Able to Make Paper from Wood Chips

Experiment is Now Being Carried on by Paper Companies in Wisconsin.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Studies by the forestry service on methods of handling wood chips suitable for paper making, have led to negotiations between Wisconsin paper companies and the railroads for shipment to their factories of experimental trainloads of chips of western woods for making paper. Investigations have shown that some of the western woods can be used in the manufacture of good grades of paper.

Experts say that some of these woods when cut into chips and dried and baled, can be delivered to Wisconsin mills at a very small advance over the cost of chips made from local timber. A great quantity of pulpwood on the national forests, it is said, may prove to be a factor in supplying favorably located paper mills with necessary raw material, if reasonable freight rates can be obtained. In Wisconsin alone there is a market for 300,000 cords of pulpwood.
